* EOC Update

Leland Gallup, AA3YB, has been volunteering at the EOC every Wednesday for several hours. He has been programming and testing the radios for the Go-Boxes. The ICOM radio comes blank and needs to be programmed with a standard set of frequencies. Several more Go-Boxes are being assembled and a total of 14 should be ready soon. Leland also makes sure the large batteries are charged up each week to ensure they are ready to go - an especially important task during the midst of this hurricane season!

We do need more credentialed ARES volunteers. Per the plan with Emergency Management, volunteers must have completed FEMA IS courses IS-100, 200, 700, and 800. All courses are online. Ham volunteers also need to complete the ARRL EC-001 course, which is available online and is no cost. <http://www.arrl.org/ares>
